PRESIDENT'S REPORT

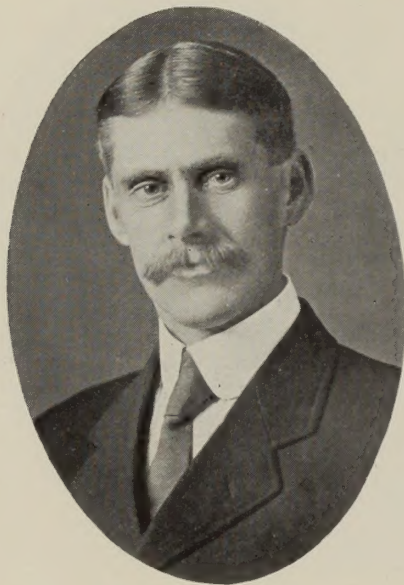

Gentlemen :—

During the year 1911 the Canadian West has developed as never before. Thousands of new settlers have come in to make homes for themselves. Railroads have rushed their steel forward in all directions to help the homesteader harvest his crop and develop the country, and both farm and city property have increased in value by leaps and bounds.

Although in some parts of the country weather conditions were such that crops were not all harvested in time to insure the quality of the yield being as high as it would otherwise have been, yet in spite of this and in spite of the set-back to business occasioned by the now famous coal strike of 1911, the country appears to be in very fine financial shape and an air of optimism prevails all over the West.

Among the different points throughout the country, none has enjoyed more phenomenal progress than our energetic and thriving City of Moose Jaw.

During the year the developments in all directions in the City have been greater than the most optimistic of us ever expected. Railways have been graded and steel laid: wholesale and manufacturing agents have either located here or are just waiting till spring opens up in order to make their announcements; property has greatly increased in value all over the City; the assessment has been doubled while the rate has been lowered; the street railway has been put into operation; the City has a splendid new water supply planned, and the year has seen a great many new citizens take up their residence in Moose Jaw.

RAILWAYS

In the year 1911, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company have carried ahead their work on the big bridge over the South Saskatchewan River at Outlook. This, when completed in July, 1912, will give Moose Jaw direct connection with Edmonton, and as Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis are—on the Soo line—direct into Moose Jaw, it will, ultimately, no doubt in view of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's plans, place Moose Jaw in the unique position of being the junction of the two Canadian Pacific's transcontinental lines with their road from the east through the United States.

The Canadian Pacific Railway in 1910 made an agreement with the City to build a line to the South Country by way of Lake Johnson. With their characteristic energy they have gone about this work, and already the farmers in the district served are shipping wheat over the new branch. This branch will be extended during the coming year to connect up with the Weyburn-Lethbridge branch, and will also reach a line to Swift Current. The Canadian Pacific Company have also announced their intention of connecting Moose Jaw up with Saskatoon by a branch from Hawarden on the Moose Jaw-Edmonton line.

JOHN CRAWFORD
Chairman of the Freight Committee

CANADIAN PACIFIC DEPOT

The rapidly expanding business of this Company has also made it necessary for them to double track their main line east to Pasqua and west to Caron, which has greatly facilitated the handling of the immense amount of traffic which naturally comes through Moose Jaw.

The 1912 estimates call for this double tracking to be extended further east thirty-five miles and west about the same distance.

In addition to this, it is the intention of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to increase their yards in Moose Jaw during 1912 by adding miles of tracks and making extensive alterations to their round-houses and shops.

The Canadian Northern Railway Company has completed the laying of the steel on the Maryfield Extension to within about a mile from the city limits on the south, and as soon as arrangements are made with the City for their terminals, Moose Jaw will have a direct connection with the Canadian Northern Railway Company. This Company is also building a line west to Lethbridge and another to Swift Current. It is also expected that the Canadian Northern will, very shortly, connect up with Saskatoon and their more northern lines. In addition, they have a charter and a survey in from Regina on the east, and we are informed that Moose Jaw will be a divisional point on this system.

The Grand Trunk Pacific have their line from Melville to Yorkton graded to within a short distance of the City on the east. They have also about fifty miles graded northwest from the City and, no doubt, as soon as satisfactory arrangements are made for their entrance into Moose Jaw, they will commence operations on the big terminals which they will erect at this point.

The Moose Jaw Electric Railway started operations early in the fall of 1911, and judging from the number of passengers which they are carrying, the venture will be a profitable one for the Company. The operation of the street railway, apparently, has had a beneficial effect on business, and further extensions will be made in 1912

The cars, which are of the "Pay As You Enter" type, are similar to those in use in Ottawa and other large cities, and are quite attractive.

BUILDING

During the year 1911, the increase in the building figures was very satisfactory. Among the largest buildings might be mentioned the Gordon & Ironsides' big new parking house, the new six-storey fire-proof building erected by the Times Printing Company, the new Bank of Montreal, and three handsome new hotels.

Following are the comparative building figures for 1910 and 1911:

1910	1911	Increase
$1,071,090.00	$2,425,736.25	$1,354,646.25

The greatest increase was in the month of June, the total increase for the month being $668,175.00.

In 1911 the City of Moose Jaw stood first among the cities of the Dominion so far as the percentage of increase in building operations was concerned, the actual increase being something over 131 per cent.

The contract has been let for a new $300,000 post office to be erected on the site of the present office. An excavation has been made for another five or six-storey modern building, which will cost at least another $300,000, and plans are out for a great number of private residences and many business blocks. Taken altogether, the outlook for the coming year in the building line is very rosy, and by present appearances all records will be broken during 1912.

POPULATION

In 1910 Moose Jaw people figured there were about 15,000 people in the city, and in 1911 this was considered to have been increased to 17,000 or 18,000. When the Dominion Government census returns came out in October showing Moose Jaw with only 13,823 population, a great deal of criticism was heard. A committee of the Board of Trade was appointed to interview the Minister of Agriculture in the matter. After seeing the Hon. Mr. Burrell, it was decided to take a new census, and this was done on November 14th, 1911, under the auspices of the Board of Trade, the chairman of the committee in charge being Mr. Geo. E. (now Alderman) Meldrum. I think I am safe in saying that everyone in the city assisted, as far as they were able, to help the one hundred and fifty volunteers who so kindly assisted in this very arduous work, and the hearty thanks of the Board is due to everyone who in any way helped. After spending two weeks, carefully checking over the first figures received, we were able to announce to the world that the population of our city, instead of being 13,823 as stated on the Dominion census, was 20,623. These figures sworn to by the committee, were promptly wired and cabled to different correspondents of our Board, and have been given great publicity. I might incidentally say that the Board of Trade paid expenses in connection with the taking of the census.

MAIN STREET, LOOKING NORTH

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

In regard to industrial development, 1911 has seen the greatest changes that have ever before taken place; wholesale houses, manufacturers and manufacturers' agents have continually been looking over the ground, and in many cases decided that Moose Jaw was the most advantageous place for their company to locate. At the present time there are a large number of business men of this class who are favorably disposed toward Moose Jaw as a strategic point for them to open up, and only need a little more encouragement from the city to help them decide in our favor.

In this connection it might not be amiss to mention the civic warehouse scheme which was outlined by the Board of Trade, and under which it was proposed to erect, on some of the vacant property owned by the city in the west end, a one-storey frame iron-covered warehouse 400 feet long, which could be erected very cheaply, and in which space could be rented to small manufactures at a merely nominal cost. Although the Board of Trade had plans prepared and an estimate made of the probable cost which showed conclusively the small expenditure necessary to put this plan into operation, and although favorable comment was made on the subject by a great many of the citizens of Moose Jaw, and although we had repeated enquiries from prospective tenants, some of whom stated in letters to us that they were ready to take space in the building as soon as it was ready, yet our city council of 1911 could not see their way clear to granting our request, and the matter is still in abeyance. The end of the plan has not been heard, however, and I trust Moose Jaw's Civic Manufacturing Warehouse will become a settled fact before many months have elapsed. In this connection I might say, Mr. B. C. Crichton, our new president, Mr. A. W. (now Mayor) Maybery, and Mr. Carmichael rendered signal service to the Board.

The City Council have just recently published a very low rate on electric power for manufacturing purposes, and no doubt this will have a tremendous influence on new industries which are looking for locations in the west.

The vast coal fields which lie south of Moose Jaw, and which have never been worked before, will also undoubtedly prove to be of much value to our city.

CUSTOMS AND POST OFFICE FIGURES

Perhaps in no way is the development of our city better illustrated than in the remarkable increase in the customs figures for the past year. In 1909-10 the figures for imports only were $128,827.85, while in 1910-11 the receipts had more than doubled, the actual figures being $276,636.25, and in 1911-12 the figures show a total of considerably over $500,000. In the post office the same gratifying results are shown, the increase of 1911 over 1910 being comparatively as large as those of the Customs Office.

ASSOCIATED BOARD OF TRADE

In 1911 the meeting of the Western Canada Associated Boards of Trade was held in the city of Lethbridge, Alta. At this meeting matters of general importance were discussed, and several resolutions were brought up by the delegates from your board. On a ballot being taken it was unanimously decided to accept the invitation of our City and hold the 1912 convention in Moose Jaw. At a meeting of the executive committee, which was held in Moose Jaw late last year, the date of the convention was decided on as June 5, 6 and 7th.

BANK CLEARINGS

In February of 1911, the bank managers of our City decided the time was ripe for a step which had often been urged on them individually by members of our Board, namely, the establishment of a clearing house for Moose Jaw. At first the weekly clearings showed a scant $350,000, but this amount steadily increased till, on the week ending November 30th, the figures were $1,700,000, or an increase of five hundred per cent. in less than ten months. A clearing house is a real business barometer, and so long as our good friends the bankers of Moose Jaw, contrive to show such a tremendous increase in the size of their weekly clearings, so long will Moose Jaw continue to prosper.

WATER SUPPLY

During the year just past, the City has, at times, experienced some difficulty in obtaining an adequate supply of good water for domestic purposes. After a great deal of time and money had been spent in research, the 1911 council engaged one of the most eminent engineers in Canada, and under his direction a splendid new supply is now being tapped, and it is expected the first of July, 1912, will see an adequate supply of pure water from Caron Springs, twenty miles away, piped into the City. Water is one of the most difficult of all the many problems that confront a prairie city, and we must congratulate ourselves on Moose Jaw having secured an abundant supply of pure water, even though the cost of the bringing of this to the city will be nearly three quarters of a million dollars. It is thought, even yet, that Moose Jaw will eventually be forced to go to the South Saskatchewan river for a permanent supply, but time will tell in this matter.

MEMBERSHIP

When, at the last annual meeting, at your request, I consented to take the chairmanship of the Board for 1911 our total membership was, I believe, 122. Our present membership is now 280, about 125 per cent. of an increase in one year, which I think is a very creditable showing. This figure I hope we will double for 1912. I might also say in this connection that the heartiest spirit of co-operation exists between the members of the Board of Trade in all matters pertaining to the citizens' welfare.

W. E. BURKE

Chairman Publicity Committee, 1912

PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN

Early in 1911 we decided that if the City of Moose Jaw was to be properly put before the outside world, we would require at least $10,000 to carry on an advertising campaign. This amount, after some discussion and after a plebiscite had been taken on the matter, was granted. In this connection I might say we were very pleased with the very large majority given by the people of Moose Jaw to this measure. The good people of Moose Jaw are evidently alive to the fact that unless a Board of Trade has money to spend advertising the City, they might as well go out of business, and also, to the fact that money so spent by the Board will bring large returns to everyone who has any interest in the City. Your Board spent the greater part of their funds in advertising in the papers of Eastern Canada, the United States and England. Judging by the hundreds of replies from concerns in the manufacturing and wholesale business and the number of good prospects we have at the present time, together with the great amount of interest displayed in Moose Jaw in the East and South and in England, there is no doubt that in 1911 we gave the advertising ball a start which will be hard to stop.

Several delegations were sent out by the Board during the year, and a large number of parties travelling through the country were entertained by the Board. An exhibit was also placed at the Dominion Exhibition at Regina, and one at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

ASSISTANCE FROM THE CITIZENS AND THE CITY COUNCIL

As an organization, the Board owes a great deal to the very hearty way in which the citizens have co-operated with them on several occasions. Among these I will mention two, first, by the large majority with which the plebescite granting $10,000 to the Board for 1911 was carried, and again in the matter of the census, when practically every one in the City did what they could to assist in a very difficult matter. I think I may safely speak for the Board and say that so long as this spirit of amity between the citizens and the Board of Trade prevails, so long will the interests of the City be best served.

The City Council have always been willing to meet the Board of Trade on any proposition which the latter might have to bring up, and while they did not always fall in with our views, yet we have reason to feel very satisfied with the spirit shown by the gentlemen who sit in the City's Council.
